MY FLORA.

A PARISIONABLE PASTORAL.

Tell me, Gentles, have you seen
My Flora pass this way?
Then you may know the Miss I mean,
Her briefly I'll portray.

No bonnet on her head,
But on her neck she wears;
An oyster shell 'tis said
In size with it compares,
Its shape no eye can brook,
Its use is doubtful too;
It but imparts a barefaced look,
And brings much cheek to view.

Her dress may please the swell
For its swollen exumbrance;
She looks a Monster Belle
In such Big Ben expanse.
These air-tubes filled with gas
Might lift her to the moon;
The small boys mark it as they pass,
And screech out: "Ah Balloon!"

And parasol she bears
For ornament, not use;
For comfort, gloves she wears
Too tight, and sleeves too loose,
Behind her hangs a hood
Just level with her chin,
An Indian Squaw might find it good
To put a baby in.

Of her hair she shows the roots,
Sham flowers the rest conceal;
And she's crippled by her boots
With the military heel:
Streets off you hear them stalk
When'er she ventures out;
And she seems to waddle more than walk,
Her hoops so sway about.

Her figure may be good
But that no eye can tell;
A mere lay figure would
Show off her dress as well,
She may have ankles neat,
But they're concealed by skirt,
Which chiefly serve to hide her feet,
And gather up the dirt.

Then, Gentles, have you seen
My Flora this way come?
She cannot unnoticed been,
She takes up too much room.

THE MAD ENGINEER.

A THRILLING EPISODE OF LIFE ON THE MISSISSIPPI.

Night on the Father of Waters! Night with her sable veil lowering over the mourning city of New Orleans!

The shrill roar of the escaping steam told all who heard it that the steamer "Western Belle" had cast off her shore-fasts and was now, like an uncaged wild bird, poising herself on the wing, ready to start on her flight up the mighty Mississippi.

I was not a moment too soon, for ere I had reached the promenade-deck, the gang-plank was drawn in. "Good bye" was said to those gathered on the wharf—handkerchiefs fluttered in the breeze waving an adieu, and we were off.

It was when the cholera was raging so fiercely at the south-west, almost depopulating whole cities in a single day, and carrying death and desolation into nearly every family.

The panic was at its height in New Orleans. Business of all kinds appeared to be utterly prostrated before the resistless march of the dead destroyer. All, or nearly all, who had friends or pecuniary ability, were intent only on placing themselves or families at a safe distance from the deadly visitant.

As a natural consequence, every boat or other conveyance which had not ceased running, was crowded with the flying and fear-stricken citizens.

The "Western Belle" formed no exception to the general rule, and on this occasion, as she swung off into the stream an observer could readily have seen that she was crowded to her utmost capacity.

Ere we had reached the channel, I observed the captain hurry past me, muttering to himself apparently in great agitation.

Had I only known before we cast off—yet something must be done, that is evident—but what?

"Give me the charge!"

Captain Reynolds raised his eyes at the sound of the clear and sonorous but somewhat imperative voice that uttered the words, and beheld a tall, dark-featured and strikingly handsome man, who had hastily approached from the opposite direction, and who, instantly seizing his hand, exclaimed.

"Captain, the engineer has left his post—gone upward—dead—the cholera!" and his jestures were significant as he spoke.

"I am already aware of the fact!" said the captain, with anxiety in his tones; but why do you evince such interest in the matter?" while his momentarily stern gaze rested upon the countenance of the stranger, whose face were partly concealed by a heavy beard and mustache of glossy blackness.

"I am Lieutenant George Hilton, of the United States Army, but former chief-engineer of the 'Prairie,' at your service!" said the stranger, in a hurried manner mentioning a well-known boat, noted in year gone by for her great speed and superior accommodations.

"And your object is to offer your services to me as engineer for the up-trip?" said Captain Reynolds, inquiringly.

"As you have intuitively perceived, it is."

"Sir—Lieutenant, I thank you—doubly thank you—and will avail myself of your kind offer; accepting in the same generous spirit with which it is made, and without further ceremony!" said the captain, as he warmly pressed the hand of the other.—"Knowing that the firemen were all green hands, I was just hastening to take charge, manage, as I best might, the engineer's department—but now I shall feel at ease."

"Then let me at once enter upon my duties; there is no time to loose!" said the lieutenant, and there was a strange gleam in his wild, restless eyes, and a nervous peculiarity in his gesture.

It was unnoticed by the captain—or if he noted, evidently considered the idiosyncracies of an ardent temperament—as he replied, with satisfaction expressed in his voice.

"True, true! I fear you will find matters in somewhat confused state, but you can send forward for me at any moment." They passed beyond my hearing, and I leisurely ascended to the hurricane deck to enjoy a cigar for an hour, after which I sought my state room—found, entered, closed the door—and was on the point of congratulating myself on having secured it, when my attention was arrested by the intonation of a musical voice of peculiar beauty—one that could never be afterwards forgotten tho' heard 'mid the wild beauty and grandeur of an ocean storm—the roar and carnage of battle, or the discordant murmers of an assembled universe! Spell bound, I listened.

"Oh, sir, whoever you are, for the love of Heaven assist me to get out of this room—and at once! Our safety—aye, the lives of every one on board is pending on—I shudder to think—perhaps the issue of a few moments!"

There was an indescribable earnestness in the utterance that thrilled me to the soul. To think was to act, and knowing by the sound that only a thin board partition separated me from the fair pleader—for that she was fair I would have staked my existence—I immediately drew my heavy "bowie," and first assuring her of a speedy deliverance, commenced cutting away at the top of one of the boards. In two minutes it was loose—in four I took it out and stepped through the opening.

What a picture was revealed!

Seated on a low stool, with her auburn ringlets floating over her shoulder of alabaster whiteness, was a gloriously beautiful maiden of seemingly, not over sixteen summers, and eyes as bright as the jewels of a regal diadem.

Her hands were tied behind, and in her struggles to free herself, the delicate flesh was cruelly lacerated.

One stroke of my knife, and the cords were severed in an instant. Observing the palor of her features, quicker than it takes me to tell it, I had caught her in my arms and borne her through the entrance which my good blade had effected. To dash open the window, and to lave her ferverish brow with water, was but the work of a moment.

She soon revived, and to an eager questioning as to the cause of her painful situation, replied, that all her family had fallen victims to the cholera, with the exception of her brother, who had recovered from the disease only to exhibit symptoms of that dark anomaly of the human mind—insanity. That she had used her utmost influence with her brother to get him to visit the North, hoping that the change of climate and travel would completely restore him to his former strong mind and health. That an hour before he had come to her room with a stout cord in his hand, and said in a playful manner that he must tie her up. Apprehending no evil, she had not objected to what she supposed one of his vagaries, but when he drew a revolver, and told her that the first words she uttered would be her last! then she become alarmed, and begged to be released. With a strange calmness and voice which brooked no reply, he commanded her to silence, and stating that he was an emissary of Satan, duly commissioned to drive the steamer to hell, locked the door and departed.

She paused and a faint smile shone through her tears, like the sunshine in a midsummer rain.

A light dawned upon my mind! The engineer was, then, the brother of this angelic picture of loveliness, and he—I shuddered as I remembered to have noticed the increasing speed of the boat and the heavy roar of the exhaust pipe—was a madman!

No time was to be lost. Hastily telling her the little I knew of the lieutenant's movements, I escorted her to the grand saloon and promising to return the moment I found her brother, I went in search of the captain.

Hardly had I reached the stairway when my attention was arrested by a yell which rose high and shrill above all other sounds, chilling its demoniac intonation, and seeming the dread harbinger of coming doom!

I involuntarily raised my hands to my ears, as did others, to shut out the terrific sound.

"In God's name what was that?" exclaimed an elderly gentleman by my side, to an officer of the boat, who rushed past us in the direction of the engine room.

"THE MAD ENGINEER! Our lives are in fearful peril! Follow if you would know more!"

A moment later, and we were at the scene of excitement, and beheld a sight to chill the blood of the stoutest heart!

With coat off—eyes flashing menace—revolver in hand, commanding the range of the entrance, and the "register" showing an amount of steam far beyond the rated capacity of the boilers—the engineer was seated upon the safety valve to keep it down! and giving occasional utterance to a wild yell, as his weapon threatened with death the horror-stricken crowd without.

No questions were asked—none were needed—it was evident that the engineer had driven the firemen from their station soon after taking his new position—had transfered several barrels of oil and rosin to the fire under the boilers, and the sharp shrill roar of the escape-pipe, as well as the quivering of the steamer from tuck to kelson, as she leaped through the water with the impetuosity of a mad racer, told each and all the fearful nature of the peril which was momentarily increasing.

"We shall be blown to eternity! Shoot the wild beast down! Our lives are in the balance!" The words were ominously echoed by the sharp click of a revolver.

"Stay! Hold! On your life, fire not!' And the voice rank like a clarion, yet with all the wild music of an æolian harp, as the crowd parted right and left, and the maiden of my story, the sister, magnificient even in her pallid beauty, rushed to the entrance.

"George! My brother!"

"Virginia! You here?"

The fire in the eyes of the madman burned with less flame than before, and hand and weapon fell to his side. His fierceness was gone in a moment, when her bright orbs gazed searchingly up on him. Breathlessly we awaited the issue.

"Give me the pistol!"

It was done.

"Now come with me!"

"But my commission from Satan?"

"Has been fulfilled!"

With her eyes calmly reading his, she took his arm and led him quietly away to his state-room.

Captain Reynolds immediately ordered the dampening of the furnace fires, and by thus reducing steam we were soon comparatively safe.

I have but little more to add.

We reached St. Louis in due time, and without any return of Lieutenant Hilton's malady, and as may be supposed, it needed but little urging for me to accompany them to the house of their uncle, a wealthy retired merchant of that city, who gave us princely welcome, worthy his generous bachelor heart.

Under the careful treatment of several of the most skilful physcians in the city, the lieutenant was soon entirely recovered.

And I?

Need I add that my friendship for the beautiful Virginia had ripened into something warmer, into love!

FATHER AND MOTHER.—Some writer embalms these two holy names in the following beautiful thoughts: "Sweeter praise can never be than that of a dying parent, as he blesses the hand that led him from sorrow, and is even now soothing the cold brow, damp with the spray of Jordan. And dear the thoughts as your tears fell upon the sod that covers the grey headed father, that you were very kind and loving to him; and you gave cheerfully of your abundance, and never caused him to feel that you were doing charity. Never can we repay those ministering angels we call father and mother. Angels, though earthly have they ever been, from the time that Adam and Eve gazed upon their first born, as he slept amid roses, while the tiny fingers, the waxen lids and the cherub form were all mysterious to them."

☞ "Isn't your hat sleepy?" inquired a wag of a gentleman with a shocking bad one on his head.

"Why so?" inquired the gentleman.

"Why, because I think it is a long time since it had a nap."

Exit wag in a hurry, narrowly escaping a demonstration of something in the boot line from the irritated gentleman.

☞ The human heart revolts against oppression and is soothed by gentleness, as the waves of the ocean rise in proportion to the violence of the winds, and sink with the breeze into mildness and serenity.

☞ Walking is the most wholesome exercise; water the best drink; and plain food the most nourishing and healthy diet. Even so in knowledge, the most useful is easiest acquired.

The Smack in School.

The following incident in a District School, described by Mr. William Pitt Palmier, of New York, President of the Manhattan Insurance Company, in an address before the "Literary Society," in Stockbridge, Mass., his native home, will take many whose heads are streaked with silvery hairs, a journey back to boyhood and early life:

A District School not far away
Mid Berkshire hills, one Winter's day
Was humming with its wonted noise
Of three-score mingled girls and boys—
Some few upon their tasks intent,
But more on furtive mischief bent;
The while the Master's downward look
Was fastened on a copy-book—
When suddenly behind his back,
Rose sharp and clear a rousing SMACK!
As 'twere a battery of bliss
Let off in one tremendous kiss!
"What's that?" the startled Master cries:
"That thir," a little imp replies
"Wath William Willith, if you pleathe—
"I saw him kith Thuthannah Peathe!"
With frown to make a statue thrill,
The Master thundered "Hither, Will!"
Like wretch o'ertaken in his track,
With stolen chattels on his back,
Will hung his head in fear and shame,
And to the awful presence came—
A great, green, bashful simpleton,
The but of all good-natured fun—
With smile suppressed, and birch upraised,
The threatener faltered—"I'm amazed
That you my biggest pupil should
Be guilty of an act so rude!
Before the whole set school to boot—
What evil genius put you to't?"
"'Twas she, herself, sir, sobbed the lad,
I did'nt mean to be so bad—
But when Susannah shook her curls,
And whispered I was 'fraid of girls,
And durs'nt kiss a baby's doll,
I could'nt stand it, sir, at all!
But up and kissed her on the spot,
I know—boo hoo—I ought to not,
But, somehow, from her looks—boo-hoo,
I thought she kind o' wished me to!"

☞ There are seven reasons why farmers are healthier than professional men, viz:

1. They work more and develope all the leading muscles of the body.

2. They take their exercise in the open air, and breathe a greater amount of oxygen.

3. Their food and drinks are commonly less adulterated, and far more simple.

4. They do not overwork their brain as much as industrious professional men.

5. They take their sleep commonly during the hours of darkness, and do not try to turn daylight into night.

9. They are not so ambitious, and do not wear themselves out so rapidly in the contest of rivalry.

4. Their pleasures are simple and less exhausting.

ENCOURAGING BENEVOLENCE.—Good deeds are very faithful; for out of one good action of ours, God produces a thousand, the harvest whereof is perpetual. Even the faithful actions of the old patriarchs, the constant sufferings of ancient martyrs live still, and do good to all succession of ages by their example. For public actions of virtue, besides that they are presently comfortable to the doer, are also exemplary to others; and as they are more beneficial to others are more crowned in us. If good deeds were utterly barren and incommodious, I would seek after them for the conscience of their own goodness: how much more shall I now be encouraged to perform them for that they are so profitable both to myself and others, and to myself in others.—Hall.

☞ Women, says a contemporary, vary in taste in regard to dress as much as men do; and this is their prerogative.

There will always be different fancies among them, which is barefaced to the bonnet as well as the dress-maker. Women also differ about beards. Some like 'em and others 'set their face against 'em.' Many a girl who scolds about mustaches has no objection to have one on her own lip—provided it belongs to the right fellow! Who wrote the following saucy epigram?

Kate hates mustaches; so much hair
Makes every man look like a bear;
But Fanny, who no thought can letter,
Bursts out; "the more like bears the better.
Because, (her pretty shoulders shrugging)
Bears are such glorious chaps for hugging."

HOW TO STOP BLOOD.—Take the fine dust of tea, or the scrapings of the inside of tanned leather, and bind it close upon the wound, and blood will soon cease to flow. These articles are at all times accessible and easy to be obtained. After the blood has ceased to flow, laudanum may be advantageously applied to the wound. Due regard to these instructions will save agitation of mind, and running for the surgeon, who would probably make no better prescription if present.—Scientific American.

☞ "Look here, Jim, there is a hole knocked out of this bottle you gave me." Why, not at all; there's the hole in it now. If it was knocked out, how could it be there?"

☞ Diogones being asked the biting of which beast was the most dangerous, replied, "if you mean wild beasts, 'tis the slanderers; if tame ones, the flatterers."

What Made Aunt Millie Happy?

"Why are you always happy, Aunt Millie?" asked little Jamie.

"Because everybody is good to me, Jamie."

"Why isn't everybody good to my papa, aunt? He is always fretful; he says everybody tries to hurt him; what makes everybody try to cheat and vex my papa, aunty?"

A shadow fell over aunt Millie's face, and she became silent. Jamie stood still looking at her. At length he asked "Aunty, were you always happy?"

Aunt Millie's work dropped from her hands. No, my dear boy. But ten years ago, I left off speaking ill of everybody; and instead, I tried to see excellencies in people's characters, and good in every ones conduct. Since that time they have treated me kindly. I don't think the same people are better than they were when I saw only their shady side. Their good is more positive than it was before I sought it—when I expected only evil of them. In the same way looking for it seemed to nurture the tendency to good in others, as the sun, by shining on the cold dark ground, makes it bright and warm developing flowers and ripening fruit. I seek only good, expect only good, and receive only good. Ought I not be happy, Jamie?"—Life Illustrated.

KEEP THE HEART ALIVE.—The longer I live, the more expedient I find it to endeavor more and more to extend my sympathies and affections. The natural tendency of advancing years is to narrow and contract these feelings.

I do not mean that I wish to form a new and sworn friendship every day, to increase my circle of intimates; these are very different affairs. But I find it conduces to my mental health and happiness, to find out all I can which is amiable and loveable in those I come in contact with, and to make the most of it.

It may fall very far short of what I was once wont to dream of; it may not supply the place of what I have known, felt and tasted; but it is better than nothing; it seems to keep the feelings and affections in exercise; it keeps a heart alive in its humanity; and till we shall be all spiritualists, this is a like our duty and our interests.—Bernard Barton.

☞ Returning emigrants from Fraser river do not paint a very delightful picture of life at "the diggins." They say that if you go to the river in the summer you find it too high for work, and if you go in the winter you find it frozen up. If you go where the gold is you find blood thirsty Indians; and if you go where the Indians are peaceable you find no gold. If you take clothes and victuals with you it costs more than they are worth to carry them; and if you do not take them with you you may expect to freeze and starve. Prices are so high, travelling so difficult, and robbery so common, that when you have made your "pile" you cannot get away with it; and, in short, no man need expect to bring a fortune home from Frasers river, unless he took one there with him, and even then the chances are that he will leave the best part of it behind him.

KEEP YOUR COURAGE UP.—When the fierce winds of adversity blow over you, and your life's summer lies buried beneath frost and snow, do not linger inactive, or sink cowardly down by the way, or turn aside from your course for momentary warmth and shelter, but with a stout heart and a firm step, go forward with God's strength to vanquish trouble, and to bid defiance to disaster. If there is a time to be ambitious, it is not when ambition is easy, but when it is hard. Fight in darkness, fight when you are down; die hard and you won't die at all. That gelatinous man, whose bones are not even muscles, and whose muscles are pulp—that man is a coward.

☞ A grand jury out south ignored a bill against a negro for stealing chickens, and before discharging him from custody, the Judge bade him stand reprimanded; he concluded as follows: "You may go now John, but (shaking his finger at him) let me warn you never to appear here again." John with delight beaming in his eyes, and with a broad grin, displaying a beautiful row of ivory, replied: "I wouldn't bin here dis time Judge only de constable fotch me."

THE SCHOOLMASTER ABROAD.—The schoolmaster must have gone abroad on a long vacation, when the following notice was allowed to be posted up in a rural district: "Wrighten wreaden and trow spellin and also marchants ackounts with double entry. Postcript Girlls and Buoys bordid and good yoositch for children."

☞ The general opinion is that the vainest of all birds is the peacock. We think the goose is. A goose, when entering a barn through the doorway, invariably bobs her head to prevent hitting the top. Evidently every goose thinks herself fifteen feet long.

It is therefore useless for all such to send us advertisements offering to pay at the end of three or six months. Where advertisements are accompanied with the money, whether one, five or ten dollars, we will give the advertiser the full benefit of cash rates.

☞ A press of job work and the absence of one of the editors during a part of the week, has prevented us from giving that attention to the local department of our paper which it should have received. We have on hand a letter from Utah and other interesting items which we shall give next week.

Speaker of the Next House.

We notice a number of papers recommending Col. A. K. McClure, of Franklin county, for Speaker of the next House of Representatives. We are pleased to observe this apparently spontaneous movement, believing him to be the very man for the position. On the score of services rendered to the party on every occasion, no man can present stronger claims. The Col. understands parliamentary rules and his quick preceptive faculties and evenness of temper point to him as the man for the office. There is no man in the State whom we would rather see elevated to a post of honor or profit than Col. McClure, or whom we consider more deserving. The writer of this has reason to know the man, having served an apprenticeship of three years under his care, at the printing business and afterwards received advice and instruction from him which has been of great service. Col. M. is entirely a self-made man, having risen from obscurity to his present enviable position, by his own indomitable energy and perseverance.—We think it just and proper that printers should be rewarded for their services to their party, as on them fall the heaviest burdens during political campaigns, and in that capacity, Col. McClure has always proved himself equal to his responsibilities. We have but little doubt that if the Col. desires the office he will receive it by acclamation, at least we hope so.

Col. L. W. Hall.

In the midst of the general rejoicing and the expressions of approbation of the efforts of individuals in regard to the late election in our district, we cannot forego the pleasure of paying a just and merited compliment to Col. L. W. Hall, of Altoona. He was a noble champion in the great cause of the people; and assisted by his eloquence, power and strong arguments to preserve the 18th district in its political opinions and save it from the hands of the spoilers. In season and out of it, when called for, he was always ready, and we must say, that his zeal was commendable and worthy of the highest approbation by the opposition to the Lecompton and anti-protection party of this District.—While we take pleasure in awarding him every need of praise, it is not only us, but it is upon the lips of hundreds. The people will not let the opportunity pass by, at the proper time, to do him justice for his noble and disinterested efforts in behalf of Freedom and a Protective Tariff. Long may he wave!—Whig.

We most heartily subscribe to all that is contained in the above quotation. Col. Hall is one of the most promising young men, in his profession, in this section of the State, and the bold and noble stand he took, during the last campaign, in favor of right and justice served to place him high in the estimation of his own party, and gained the respect of his political opponents. When called upon to address public meetings, he is always ready. On all occasions he has exhibited abilities of no common order as a logician and orator. We predict that the day is coming when he will be rewarded handsomely by those whom he has devoted his time and talents to benefit—the people.

"DEADHEADS" ON THE PRESS.—Talking of Dead-heading, or availing ones-self of privileges gratis, somebody remarks that "the press endures the infliction or deadheadism from the pulpit, the bar and the stage, from corporations, societies, and individuals. It is expected to yield its interest—it is required to give strength to weak institutions—eyes to the blind, clothes to the naked, and bread to the hungry—it is asked to cover up infirmities, hide weakness, and wink at improprieties—it is expected to herald quacks, bolster up dull authors, and flatter the vain—it is, in short, to be all things to all men—and if it looks for pay or reward, it is denounced as mean and sordid. There is no interest under the whole heavens that is expected to give so much to society, without pay or thanks, as the press."

Fight for the Championship.

The prize fight between Morrissey and Heenan for the Championship of America, which has created so much excitement and speculation among the "fancy" for some time past, came off on Long Point, Canada, on Wednesday last. It is estimated that over 2500 persons were in attendance to witness the brutal affair. The sporting papers publish long accounts of the proceedings, from which we learn that eleven rounds were fought, at the end of which time Heenan was unable to come up to time, and Morrissey was declared victor, although he is said to have received much the severest punishment. The first five rounds were entirely in favor of Heenan, after which his wind failed him and he showed signs of defeat. It is generally admitted that Heenen was the better man of the two and would have gained the victory had he not been confined to his bed, for some six days previous to the fight, with a sore leg.

THE PENNSYLVANIA CANAL.—We learn from a reliable source that the Pennsylvania Company intend placing their portion of the late State canals in complete repair by next spring, and will hereafter aim to facilitate navigation to the best of their ability. The profitable business done on this branch of their improvements during the present year has encouraged them to offer strong inducements to boatmen, and with this view, they have concluded to transfer all their heaviest freight from the railroad to the canal. The entire Main Line is to be deepened, for the passage of the largest sized boats, and we have good reason to predict, from what has been stated to us, that the canal business next year will be unusually lively.

MORPHY VICTORIOUS.—The telegram announcing that the match between Morphy and Harwitz had been postponed for the present on account of the illness of the latter, proves to be erroneous. If the Paris correspondent of the New York Times can be believed, and he is generally considered good authority, the match is closed, and Morphy has been declared the victor. The correspondent writes thus: "The great match in chess between Morphy and Harwitz has been decided in favor of the former. The games stood, 2 for Harwitz, 5 for Morphy, and 1 drawn. The fifth game was won by Morphy in twelve moves, when Harwitz renounced any further pursuit. Andersen and Heyldebrant have arrived here to play Morphy."

DEATH OF KIMBER CLEAVER.—We are grieved to announce, says the Harrisburg Telegraph, the decease in the prime of life, of Kimber Cleaver, Esq. He expired at the residence of Mr. B. Taylor in Pottsville, on Tuesday morning last, aged 44 years. Mr. Cleaver's profession was a civil engineer. For some years Mr. Cleaver has been prominently known to the citizens of Pennsylvania as a leader of the American party, and has been placed in nomination at various times for high and responsible offices, by that political organization. In all his social and business relations Mr. Cleaver was a worthy man, and highly esteemed by all who knew him. His funeral took place on Thursday, and was attended by the Junior Sons of America, and a large concourse of citizens.

ATLANTIC MONTHLY.—The November number of this periodical contains an excellent article on Railway Engineering in the United States, an excellent story entitled "Her Grace, the Drummer's Daughter," a continuation of the "Autocrat of the Breakfast Table," under the title of "a visit to the Autocrat's Landlady."—Did we examine the whole catalogue of periodicals in this county we could not find one which we can recommend with so much confidence as the Atlantic Monthly. Price $3 per annum. Phillips, Sampson & Co., Boston.

FROM MEXICO.—Late New Orleans papers contain the particulars of the defeat of Vidaurri by Miramon. The former was not on the field when the engagement commenced, and his army appears to have been attacked when least apprehensive and prepared for it. The rumors were that the defeated army lost 500 men killed, and that some 2000 were taken prisoners with their artillery and provisions. Later reports state that the loss was not so heavy as at first set down.

LADIE'S HOME MAGAZINE.—The November number of this spirited little monthly is on our table, embelished with a handsome steel engraving entitled "My own Fireside," and a beautiful colored fashion plate, embroiderie's patterns, &c. The reading matter is varied and excellent. Price $2 per annum. T. S. Arthur & Co., Philadelphia.

☞ Heavy Falling Off.—There was a decrease in the taxable property of San Francisco, California, for the present fiscal year, as compared with the last, of considerably more than 4,6000,000.

☞ Yellow Fever.—The Charlston papers, and those of Mobile and New Orleans, advise strangers and absent citizens to keep away from that city until frost shall have killed off the yellow fever.

☞ Simple Words the Best.—When you doubt between words, choose the plainest, the commonest, the most idiomatic. Eschew fine words, as you would rogue, love simple ones as you would native roses on your cheeks.

☞ The new Congress.—So far ten States have chosen 53 Republicans and 26 Democrats to the next House of Representatives. There are in the present House from the same States, 38 Republicans and 41 Democrats.

☞ It is a curious fact, that during yellow fever, clear and beautiful weather mostly predominates. Such is the case the present season at New Orleans, and such was the case on previous visitations of the pestilence.

Mr. Choate's Last.—The eight mutineers of the whale-ship Junior will soon be tried in Boston Mass. A few days since, Rufus Choate, speaking of the alleged ringleader, is reported to have said, "What? Hands dripping with blood, and no money! He's a lost man!"

☞ A Name.—The following is vouched for by respectable authority, says an exchange, as the real name of a lady residing in Monroe county, in this State—the family name being of course ommitted: Mary Anne Rebecca Jane Mollie Todd Yankee Doodle Yahoo Bonaparte.

☞ During the year 1856 upwards of eleven thousand males and six hundred females were imprisoned for debt in England. A few weeks since, two men who had been occupants of debtors' prisons for eleven and six years respectfully, were discharged from custody. The former was eighty-four years of age.

☞ Pedestrianism.—Grindell, the famous New York pedestrian, was beaten in a five mile race at Burlington, Vt., on Friday last, by Kenatekensata, an Iriquois Indian. The winning time was 27-40. Grindell was four seconds behind. At a former race, between the same parties, the Indian was beaten.

☞ Maine Laws and prohibition do not seem to have improved the morals of Boston, for the Trapeller admits, "In order to see the comet in its full glory, take a good glass. If this fails, take two glasses. Should this prove insufficient, take more glasses, and you will in time be able to see not only one, but two comets—perhaps more."

☞ Michael Elk, who murdered his wife in Cincinnati, a few days ago, by plunging a knife into her bosom, gave as a reason for the bloody deed that she had the phthisic, and had kept him awake all night by her hard breathing.—He would, he said, kill anybody who disturbed his rest. Michael is said to be of an exceedingly sweet and amiable disposition!

☞ As showing the force of the flames and heat at the burning of the Chrystal Palace, we note the remarkable fact that sheets of tin measuring fourteen by twenty inches were wrenched from their fastenings, carried into the air to an immense height, and after twenty-five or thirty minutes' sailing in the air, dropped down two or three miles from the Palace.

☞ Printers Esquires.—The art of printing was practiced in Germany, Italy, etc., as a genteel pastime, in the houses of the educated and wealthy, who, however, could not entirely dispense with the aid of the artizan. From this intermixing of rank arose the privilege of the printers to wear arms, (to be an armiger esquire.) In 1541, Francis 1, suppressed that right relative to journeymen and apprentices.

☞ Our readers have all heard the saying that "nine tailors make one man." Possibly, however, some of them would like to know the origin of the saying. Here it is: In 1482, an orphan begger boy applied for alms at a tailor's shop in London, in which nine journeymen were employed. His forlorn but intelligent appearance touched the hearts of the benevolent tailors, who gave him a shilling each. With this capital the young hero purchased fruit, which he retailed at a profit. From this beginning, by industry and perseverance, he rose to distinction and usefulness. When his carriage was built, he caused to be painted on the pannel, "Nine tailors made me a man."

☞ Chicago Grain Trade.—The total shipments of the season from Chicago are now 822,573 barrels of flour, 7,467,546 bushels of wheat, 7,110,078 bushels of corn, 1,412,000 bushels of oats, and 87,000 bushels of barley, making a total of nearly eighteen millions of bushels of grain, namely, 17,741,582 bushels. At this time last year the shipments had amounted to 104,125 barrels of flour, 5,634,184 bushels of wheat, 6,624,287 bushels of corn, and 275,714 bushels of oats, making 18,127,456 bushels of grain, and showing an increase in the shipments of this year of 4,771,364 bushels.

"Local Items" of a Country Newspaper.

The Allegheny Valley Echo is a new paper just started at Emlenton, among the mountains in the Keystone State. The editor says he shall not publish another paper for three weeks, as he is obliged to look up some paper, ink, &c., at Pittsburgh. His news record is comprehensive: We learn that the river is very low, and fish plenty. Next Monday will be the first day of our first Fair, and from all appearances, it's going to be a first-rate show; there's to be a "flying horse," a "rearing mule," and a "tumbling jackass" on hand, expressly for the benefit of the ladies; and "Gum" Davis is expected to get drunk by the time class G is attended to. Our friends, Messrs. Harrison, Morgan and Harvey Sloan have been to a great deal of trouble and expense in getting up a patent buckaction anti-terrestial Pegasus, that's going to fly over the flying horse, and the sights and seers on this occasion will undoubtedly crowd the enclosure. We shall give a full history of it in our next. Matrimony has been greatly on the increase for some time past, and after a while something else will be on the increase; several jugs of Squire Murrain's Mountain Dew have left town lately. Some scoundrels broke into Mr. Gormley's cellar, got some old fish oil instead of whiskey, left his garden gate open, and an old sow entered and eat up all his sour krout on the stalk. Warren money is now good, and John Forker's potatoes didn't turn out so well as they might have done; there will be an average crop generally. Ross Porter's oxen ran off last night, smashing down some eighty rods of fence: singings are very plenty, and a child was born up in the wilderness with a ring in its nose; the low stage of the river, and the rise of candle wick induces us to whittle our splinters down to a point. Cash receipts of the week—fifty cents and a dime from Mr. John Mehrten, and trouble and torn trousers.

A BEAR TREED BY A HORSE.—Says the Michigan Watch Tower, bears are more numerous this season than for several years in the central counties of the State, and adventures with them are quite common. Mr. D. Cross, of Fairfield, who recently visited Eaton county, relates to us an affair which occurred four miles east of Eaton Rapids, which presents an example of maternal care by a mare of her colt, that is rarely exhibited by the horse kind, if it was not a hair breadth adventure. A mare with a colt by her side was feeding in a pasture, when she was approached by three bears, an old one and two cubs nearly full grown. Alarmed for the safety of her colt, the mare forgot the usual fear of the horse for these animals, and attacked them with such vigor that they were forced to retreat. They were pursued so closely that one of them was compelled to seek safety, and remain in a tree until the owner of the mare, who had watched the whole proceedings, went to the house for a gun, returned and shot it.

☞ A Tragedy of a terrible character occurred in Pontoco county, Arkansas, a few days since. There was a free negro living in that county, who some time since killed a white man near Fort Smith, and Governor Harris issued orders to Mr. Young Brown, sheriff of that county, to arrest him. He accordingly, with two other men, went to arrest him. When they got near the house the negro ran to a crip where he had fire-arms. One of the sheriff's party ran to the door of the crib, and seeing the negro with a pistol presented, he ran away, and the the other man that was with the sheriff then ran up to the door, when the negro shot him dead. The sheriff then shot the negro, wounding him; at the same time the sheriff received a shot in the head, the ball entering the upper part of the skull. The sheriff, though badly wounded, then clenched the negro, but having no knife the negro cut him all to pieces, and thus ended his troubles. The negro being wounded, found he could not get away, and shot himself.

Is the Atlantic Telegraph a Failure.

The general tone of the press on both sides of the ocean, says the New York Herald, regarding the Atlantic telegraph, is one of discouragement at the result of the enterprize, which they rather hastily and unwarrantably pronounced a failure. The French and English papers ridicule our celebration in commemoration of the successful laying of the cable as premature, and point to the long silence which has followed the transmission of the last dispatch, as a proof of the unsuccessful termination of the great undertaking. But should we never get another word through the present cable, is it just to say that the enterprize has not succeeded, or that the practicability of the work has not been fully and completely established? Have not the mechanical difficulties which stood in the way been removed by Mr. Everett's paying out machine? And although the electrical department has not yet succeeded in rendering that success permanent, does any one imagine that the Atlantic telegraph is a thing of the past?—that it is never to be revived?

Should the present cable never again be worked, and the present company be unable to carry the prize to a more successful termination, there are others who will be ready and willing to undertake the task. The great benefits which telegraphic communication between this continent and Europe must confer upon both, form the best guarantee that could be presented of its ultimate and permanent establishment.—But even if private companies were not to be found ready to enter upon the task, the English and American governments will take it in hand. The practicability of the enterprize once established, the mere pecuniary considerations connected with it sink into utter insignificance compared with the great benefits which it will confer upon the commercial world, independant of the other and grander results which must follow its successful accomplishment.

Execution of Mary Twiggs.

DANVILLE, October 23.

The woman Mary Twiggs convicted for participating in the murder of her husband and Mrs. Clark, was executed yesterday. The town was crowded with people from the country, and the roofs of the buildings adjacent to the prison were filled with persons, anxious to witness the horrid spectacle.

She bade farewell to her brother and children, and after devotional exercises in her room, was taken to the scaffold at a quarter past ten o'clock, leaning upon the arm of one of her spiritual advisers. A chapter had been read, and an impressive prayer offered up on the scaffold, Mrs. Twiggs spoke for six or eight minutes, protesting her innocence, declaring her readiness to die and her trust in a just Judge, only regretting to leave behind her the two orphan children. She was much affected throughout. The solemnity of the scene was made more impressive by her groans and sobs. Even after the cap was drawn over her face she appealed to God in the most earnest manner, and she asserted her innocence. At ten o'clock and thirty-five minutes the drop fell, and after struggling for a few moments, the wretched woman hung lifeless.

There was an immense concourse of people around the jail, and two military companies were in attendance to preserve order.

A DANGEROUS EXCITEMENT.—Yesterday, in our telegraphic column, we gave an account of the arrest, without a warrant, at New Albany, Ind., by Louisville officers, of Horace Bell—and we stated that his offence was the rescue of his father and brother, in July last, from a Kentucky jail, where they were confined for running off negroes. The telegraph, yesterday afternoon, informed us that the excitement at New Albany, consequent upon this arrest, had so increased that a considerable body of men, heavily armed, left the place for Elizabethtown Island, where Bell was confined, to rescue him. It is also reported that a body of Kentuckians were gathering together to meet them. We earnestly hope the authorities of both States will take such measures as to preclude the possibility of a collision between these citizens.

PRIZE CORRESPONDENCE.

The affidavit of Mr. Wilson, given below, must silence scepticism with regard to the honesty of some lottery proprietors. This gentleman has verified the adage, "better be born lucky than rich."

AUGUSTA, Ga., Oct. 4th, 1858.

WM. R. WILSON, Esq., No 498 Pearl st., N. Y.

DEAR SIR:—Allow us to congratulate you on your good fortune, in drawing the whole of the second capital prize of $22,3000 in our lottery scheme of Sept. 11th last.

As we do not use the names of prize holders without special permission, we have to ask authority to do so in your case.

We more particularly desire your consent at this time, because there has been a recent attempt to injure our firm.

Very respectfully yours,
SAMUEL SWANN & CO.

NEW YORK, Oct. 8th, 1858.

MESSRS. SAMUEL SWANN & Co., Augusta, Ga.:

GENTS.—Yours of the 4th inst. is just received. I must cheerfully give you permission to use my name, and hope it may be of advantage to your concern.

I consider I owe you this in consideration of the promptness with which you have paid the prize.

Very truly yours, &c.
WM. R. WILSON,
No. 498 Pearl street.

P. S.—I herewith enclose you my affidavit which you can publish if you think proper.

The undersigned WM. R. WILSON, of 498 Pearl street, in the city of New York, being sworn, deposes and says: That he was the holder of the whole ticket, numbers 19, 44, 51—in SAMUEL SWANN & Co's lottery scheme of Sept. 11th, last; and that by reason of the drawing, the same ticket became entitled to the whole of the second capital prize of $22,300, which prize has been fully and promptly paid by the managers. W. R. WILSON.

Sworn before me, this 8th October, 1858.
AUGUSTUS J. BROWNE,
Commissioner of Deeds.

Children Playing with a Bear.

The following is stated as of recent occurrence in Liberia: Two children, one four and the other six years old, rambled away from their friends, who were hay making. They had gone from one thicket to another, gathering fruit, laughing and enjoying the fun. At last they came near a bear lying on the grass, and without the slightest apprehension, went up to him. He looked at them steadily without moving; at length they began playing with him, and mounted upon his back, to which he submitted with perfect good humor. In short, both seemed inclined to be pleased with each other; indeed the children were delighted with their new playfellow. The parents missed the truants, became alarmed, and followed on their tracks. They were not long in finding out the spot, when, to their dismay, they beheld one child sitting on the bear's back and the other feeding him with fruit! They then called, when the youngsters ran to their friends, and Bruin, apparently not liking the interruption went away into the forest.

WHAT IT IS TO "RUN FOR CONGRESS."—Gen. James Ashley, Congressman elect from the Fifth Ohio District, made a speech at Toledo, a few days ago, in which he said: "I have labored as I never labored before in my life—although I am known as a worker. Entering the contest in a District comprising ten counties, the largest in the State—and with a majority of three hundred against us, I have been successfully concluded a canvass which I believe unequalled in point of labor in this or any other State, making, as I have, inside of sixty working days ninety-nine speeches, averaging in length two and a half hours each, and traveling in buggies, on horseback and on foot over fourteen hundred miles, to say nothing of trips by railroad.

ALL SWEPT AWAY.—Among the many sad accidents, says the New Orleans Delta, of the present epidemic, which has come to our knowledge, and which we have generally abstained from publishing, is the following, perhaps unsurpassed in afflictive interest:—A German, who came to this city many years since, had acquired a large property, and last spring he sent over to 'faderland' and removed to this city all the members of his immediate family, some seven or eight in number—father, mother, brothers and sisters. Not long after their arrival the pestilence entered his household, and ceased not its work of death until every one of the newly arrived relatives were carried forth to their graves in a strange land which they had come so far to fill.

Cost of a Seat in Parliament.—It is indeed, says the Times' London correspondent, no slight matter, this of fighting one's way up to the unpaid seats of English Parliament. Mr. Thackeray, for instance, told me that his unsuccessful contest for the comparatively small borough of Oxford, cost him over £1,000. sterling, one item of which for the hire of "cabs and flys," amounted to £175., or nearly $900. The county contest, are, of course, much more costly.—One friend of mine who stood twice in succession for a country representation, loosing the first and winning the second contest, spent upon the two more than £12,000., or $60,000.

SUDDEN CHANGES.—Mr. Geo. W. Constable, one of the Salt Lake mail conductors, says that when he left Salt Lake City, on the 4th of last month, the heat was oppressive; but when he got three day's travel out of the city, it snowed, and the fourth day the ground was frozen and the ice plenty. Three days later he went through snow nearly a foot deep, and when he got over on the North Platte, the mosquitoes attacked him in swarms, and nearly devoured him. This was experiencing sudden changes and the four seasons in rapid succession.

NEW GROCERY FEED AND PROVISION STORE.

The subscriber would respectfully inform the citizens of Altoona and vicinity that he has opened a store of the above kind, near the corner of Adaline and Julia streets, East Altoona, where he will keep constantly on hand a full supply of everything in his line. His

GROCERIES

are all fresh and will be sold at prices as low as those of any other establishment in town. His stock of provisions consisting of Flour, Hams, Shoulders, Sides, &c.

will be sold a little cheaper than they can be bought at any where else. His Flour is obtained from the best mills in the Western part of the State, and is warranted to be what it is represented.

All kinds of Feed for horses, cows and hogs, always on hand.

I intend to keep such an assortment that I shall at all times be able to supply my customers with whatever they may need, and I intend also to sell at prices which will make it a saving to those who patronize my store.

LOCAL ITEMS.

LADIES BAZAR.—The ladies connected with St. John's Church in this place, will open their Bazar in the room over Lowther and Black's store, on the corner of Annie & Virginia streets on the 11th of November, and will keep it open for three days. From the arrangements already made, we predict that this will be one of the finest displays ever got up in this place. The proceeds are to be applied to the liquidation of the debt incurred in the erection of a parsonage for their Minister, Rev. J. Twigg, and we have no doubt a handsome sum will be netted. Those who have the affair in charge are fully competent to the task, and will do their best to make the Bazar a great centre of attraction while it is open. Almost every variety of goods, such as gold watches, and jewelry, clothing, books, &c., will be offerred. Bear in mind that the Bazar opens on the 11th of November, and pay it a visit.

THE MODEL IN BLAST.—In styling the new store-room of Messrs. J. & J. Lowther, the model, we speak the truth. It is decidedly the handsomest store-room in this section of the country, and is worth a visit to see it alone.—But that is not all; they have just opened out an assortment of goods which would do credit to a fancy store on Chesnut street, and excels in beauty and variety the finish of the room.—We know when we predicted that they would bring a good assortment of goods, that we would be sustained in our assertions. They have inaugerated a new feature in store-keeping in Altoona. They deal in dry goods alone, and consequently are enabled to present a greater variety, a better quality—and sell at lower figures than those who combine all classes of merchandize. If you wish to view the beautiful and useful combined, go to Lowther's.

OBITUARY.—It is our painful duty, this week, to record the death of one of our most respected citizens, Dr. G. D. Thomas, which event occurred at 1 o'clock, on Tuesday morning last. The Dr. had been suffering from a disease, known as dropsy or softening of the heart, for some two or three months past. It was evident to himself as well as others, that he could not possibly recover, and although his death was daily anticipated, the announcment was received with no less sorrow. In this dispensation of Divine Providence the community feels that it has sustained a loss not easily repaired. He was universally beloved and respected by all who knew him—was a true christian, a faithful friend and a worthy member of society. His bereaved family and relatives have the sympathy of the entire community. We shall publish a more extended notice of the deceased next week.

DISTRESSING INTELLIGENCE.—In the Baltimore Sun, of Saturday last, we find a three line paragraph stating that Kansas papers contains an account of the murder, on the Little Blue, of George W. Shermer, a printer from Pennsylvania. The account is very unsatisfactory and the locality entirely unknown to us. From the reading of the paragraph, however, we have no doubt but that the murdered man is the same person who worked in this office some two years since and who left for Kansas about the first of May, 1857. At last accounts recived from him by his mother, who resides in this place, he was engaged in trading on the Northern waters of the Territory, and it is supposed that he had considerable money about his person, for which he has been murdered. We have instituted inquiry in the case and hope to receive something more definite in a short time.

CHEWING TOBACCO IN CHURCH.—The following which we copy from an exchange, is applicable to this place:—

"This filthy and ungentlemanly practice prevails to an annoying extent in our town, and for the benefit of those addicted to it, we publish the following lines, which are to the point. They were handed to us by a gentleman connected with one of our churches, the floors and walls of which have been very much discolored and damaged by the vile weed:—

Ye chewers of the noxious weed
Which grows on earth's most cursed sod,
Be pleased to clean your filthy mouths
Outside the sacred 'House of God.'
Throw out your plug and cavendish,
Your 'fat,' your 'twist,' your 'honey-dew,'
And not presume to spit upon
The pulpit, aisle, or in the pew.

BURGLARY.—Some burglar or burglars effected an entrance into the grocery store of Geo. T. Cyphers, on Montgomery street, on Saturday night last, by wrenching off some iron bars placed over a back cellar window. It appears they must have went direct to the money drawer, into which they fitted a skeleton key, which started a patent alarm attached to it, and caused the rascals to beat a hasty retreat without getting any booty. The drawer contained a few hundred pennies, and some $13 in Furnace script. In their rapid flight the burglars strewed the cellar with matches. People sho'd loook well to their premises, for we have resident burglars among us ready to go into the most desperate ventures.—Whig.

ANOTHER ENTERPRIZE.—Our friend Lewis Black announces by Posters and through our advertising columns, that he has opened a grocery & hardware store, in the new building on the corner of Annie & Virginia streets, where the public can find an assortment, in his line, unequalled in this section of the country. His store-room is large and he has it well filled.—He will keep everything in the line of groceries, hardware, queensware, wooden and willow ware. Flour, feed, &c., and take in exchange for goods all kinds of country produce. Give him a call, friends, his room and assortment are worth viewing.

REVIVAL MEETINGS.—The revival meetings in the Methodist and United Brethren churches are still in progress and increasing in interest. The alters are nightly crowded with Penitents, and a number have professed to have found peace in believing, and united themselves with the church. May God speed his own work and increase the number of convicted. Ministerial aid is needed and we hope that it will be supplied.

BALDNESS CURED.—For real worth, Wood's Hair Restorative undoubtedly the best preparation now in use, for restoring hair on bald heads, changing gray hair to its original color, and as a cosmetic or cure for pimples, it is fast taking the place of other preparations. No toilet now-a-days is complete without it.

CAUTION.—Beware of worthless imitations, as several are already in the market, called by different names. Use none unless the words (Professor Wood's Hair Restorative, Depot St. Louis, Mo., and New York), are blown in the bottle. Sold by all Druggists and Patent Medicine dealers, also by all Fancy and Toilet Goods dealers in the United States and Canada. See advertisement in this weeks paper.

THE STRENGTH OF THE BODY.—The strength of the body depends upon the strength of the lungs, the big, full chest is a sure indication of a strong man, hence all should study to keep it healthy, and avoid those sure sappers of the constitution, Coughs and Colds, for which no medicine is better adapted than "Dr. Keyser's Pectoral Syrup," a remedy known all over the country as invaluable in Diseases of the Breast and Lungs. You can buy it at G. W. Kessler's in this place.

STILL ON FIRE.—The mountains in this vicinity are still on fire, and will likely continue to burn until we have rain, which is now badly needed. Almost all the mountains along the line of the Railroad are on fire. The sight presented by the mountain opposite Mount Union, on Saturday evening last, was beautiful and terrific. Much property has already been destroyed and much more must suffer, daily, until the clouds let down in copious showers.

PATENT SLEEPING CARS.—Woodruffs Patent Sleeping Car, which we noticed some time since, is now running regularly on the Penna. Railroad, and the rush to obtain berths therein at each end of the route, is very great. The cost of the car was $2800, and the income per day by charging 50 cents for a seat therein, is $27,-50. We learn that the Company are having a number of those cars built on their own account.

"IN A FEW DAYS."—McCormick, the storekeeper down town, is now in the city, laying in his stock of Fall and Winter goods, and will be on hand "in a few days," with a little the handsomest and cheapest assortment he has ever yet purchased, and all know that he is famous for his fine assortment and low prices.—"Wait for the wagon" ladies and gentlemen, and you will see something handsome.

LIBEL SUIT WITHDRAWN.—We are pleased to state that the libel suit pending between our neighbors of the Tyrone Star and Hollidaysburg Standard, has been withdrawn by arrangement between the parties—the deft. to pay the costs in the case and withdraw the offensive words.—This has been done, and on leave of Court. Dis. Att. Hewit entered nolle pros. This is as it should be.

WHY NOT DRESS.—Yes, why may not every person in the town and surrounding country wear a suit of clothes equal to those worn by the aristocratic, when they can buy the material so cheap and be fitted so neatly at the merchant tailoring establishment of John O'Donnell, next door above the National Hotel, on Main street. Let those in want of a good suit or part of a suit, call upon Mr. O'Donnell.

HOME AGAIN.—We notice that the "Great Southern Train" is again under the command of the model conductor, Jim Cramer. His trip to the west we hope was a pleasant one. He has not informed us whether he found any of the "yelloy boys" in his travels, but presume he seen the "elephant."

TAKEN HOME.—James Plummer, the young man who was injured at the late encampment, was removed to his home at Bald Eagle Furnace on Saturday last.

THE PANIC—MORE FAILURES.—The panic in New York seems to be on the increase. In this city everything goes on smoothly, and the only failures we have heard of were the failures to furnish good fits made by some inferior clothing establishments. There is no such difficulty to be encountered by those who patronize the Brown Stone Clothing Hall of Rockhill & Wilson, Nos. 603 and 605 Chestnut street, above sixth. Gentlemen and Youths never fail to procure capital fits at this popular establishment.

THE BEST COUGH MEDICINE.—One of the very best Cough Medicines to be found anywhere, is Dr. Keyser's Pectoral Syrup, sold by G. W. Kessler, at 50 cents per bottle.

PROSPECTUS OF THE WESTERN EDUCATOR.—On the first of January, 1859, we propose commencing the publication of an Educational Monthly Magazine for Teachers and Schools, entitled the "WESTERN EDUCATOR." The Educator will be printed in the highest style of the art, on clear, white paper, and in 8vo. form of 32 pp. neatly trimmed and enclosed in a handsome cover.

The contents will be prepared with a view to the wants and wishes of teachers: the mission of the Magazine will be to assist and encourage teachers in their arduous labors. Nothing exclusively local or tedious, such as lengthy reports of the transactions of minor Educational Associations, or stale and labored essays, will be admitted into the columns of the Educator. Our object shall be to furnish a faithful friend and companion to teachers and the more advance pupils in the Public Schools.

We are glad to announce the following able corps of special contributors:

John Ogden, late Prin. McNeely Normal School, Ohio.
B. M. Kerr, A. M., Prin. Oakland Seminary, Pa.
D. Dennison, Prin. 2d Ward Public School, Pittsburg.
Rev. S. K. Kane, Darlington, Beaver county, Pa.
Rev. W. W. Laverty, Prin. Wellsville, Ohio, Male and Female Seminary.
Rev. J. R. Shearer, Wellsburgh, Va.
Rev. D. S. Welling, Prin. Maple Grove Academy.
Rev. E. A. Brindley, (Uncle Edward.)

Teachers and friends of Education, favorable to the enterprise, will confer a favor by corresponding freely with us on the subject. The first number will be issued early in December next, provided we meet with sufficient encouragement.

The price of the Educator will be One Dollar a year payable on the receipt of the second number.

BOERHAVE'S

HOLLAND BITTERS

THE CELEBRATED HOLLAND REMEDY FOR

DYSPEPSIA,

DISEASE OF THE KIDNEYS,

LIVER COMPLAINT,

WEAKNESS OF ANY KIND

FEVER AND AGUE,

And the various affections consequent upon a disordered

STOMACH OR LIVER,

Such as Indigestion, Acidity of the Stomach, Colicky Pains, Heartburn, Loss of Appetite, Despondency, Costiveness, Blind and Bleeding Piles. In all Nervous, Rheumatic and Neuralgic Affections, it has in numerous instances proved highly beneficial, and in others effected a decided cure.

This is a purely vegetable compound, prepared on strictly scientific principles, after the manner of the celebrated Holland Professor, Boerhave: Because of its great success in the most of the European States, its introduction into the United States was intended more especially for those of our fatherland scattered here and there over the face of this mighty country. Meeting with great success among them, I now offer it to the American public, knowing that its truly wonderful medical virtues must be acknowledged.

It is particularly recommended to those persons whose constitutions may have been impaired by the continuous use of ardent spirits, or other forms of dissipation. Generally instantaneous in effect, it finds its way directly to the seat of life, thrilling and quickening every nerve, raising up the drooping spirit, and, in fact, infusing new health and vigor in the system.

CAUTION.—The great popularity of this delightful Aroma has induced many imitations, which the public should guard against purchasing. Be not persuaded to buy anything else until you have given Boerhave's Holland Bitters a fair trial. One bottle will convince you how infinitely superior it is to all these imitations.

PROF. O. J. WOOD & CO.—Gents: Within a few days we have received so many orders and calls for Prof. O. J. Wood's Hair Restorative, that to-day we were compelled to send to Boston for a quantity, (the 6 dozen you forwarded all being sold,) while we might order a quantity from you. Every bottle we have sold seems to have produced three or four new customers and the approbation, and patronage it receives from the most substantial and worthy citizens of our vicinity, fully convince us that it is A MOST VALUABLE PREPARATION.

Send us as soon as may be one gross of $1 size; and one dozen $2 size; and believe us yours very respectfully,

HICKORY GROVE, St. Charles Co., Mo., Nov. 19, 1856.

PROF. O. J. WOOD—Dear Sir: Some time last summer we were induced to use some of your Hair Restorative, and its effects were so wonderful, we feel it our duty to you and the afflicted, to report it.

Our little son's head for some time had, been perfectly covered with sores, and some called it scald head. The hair almost entirely came off in consequence, when a friend, seeing his sufferings, advised us to use your Restorative, we did so with little hope of success, but, to our surprise, and that of all our friends, a very few applications removed the disease entirely, and a new and luxurient crop of hair soon started out, and we can now say that our boy has as healthy a scalp, and as luxurient a crop of hair as any other child. We can therefore, and do hereby recommend your Restorative, as a perfect remedy for all diseases of the scalp and hair.

We are, yours respectfully,

SARAH A. HIGGINBOTHAM.

PROF. O. J. WOOD—Dear Sir: I have used two bottles of Professor Wood's Hair Restorative, and can truly say it is the greatest discovery of the age for restoring and changing the Hair. Before using it I was a man of seventy. My Hair has now attained its original color. You can recommend it to the world without the least fear, as my case was one of the worst kind.

Yours Respectfully,
DANIEL N. MURPHY.

THE LIVER INVIGORATOR!

PREPARED BY DR. SANFORD,

COMPOUNDED ENTIRELY FROM GUMS,

Is one of the best Purgative and Liver Medicines now before the public, that acts as a Cathartic, easier, milder, and more effectual than any other, medicine known. It is not only a Cathartic, but a Liver remedy, acting first on the Liver to eject its morbid matter, then on the stomach and bowels to carry off that matter, thus accomplishing two purposes effectually, without any of the painful sensation experienced in the operations of most Cathartics. It strengthens the system at the same time that it purges it, and when taken daily in moderate doses, will strengthen and build it up with unusual rapidity.

The LIVER is one of the principal regulators of the human body; and when it the powers of the system are fully developed. The stomach is almost entirely dependent on the healthy action of the Liver for the proper performance of its functions; when the stomach is at fault, the bowels are at fault, and the whole system suffers in consequence of one organ—the LIVER—having ceased to do its duty. For the diseases the proprietors has made it his study, in a practice of more than twenty years, to find some remedy wherewith to counteract the many derangements to which it is liable.

To prove that this remedy is at last found, any person troubled with LIVER COMPLAINT, in any of its forms, has but to try a bottle, and conviction is certain.

These Gums remove all morbid or bad matter from the system, supplying in their place a healthy flow of bile, invigorating the stomach, causing food to digest well, PURIFYING THE BLOOD, giving tone and health to the whole machinery, removing the cause of the disease—effecting a radical cure.

DISEASE ATTACKED, AND WHAT IS BETTER, PREVENTED, by the occasional use of the LIVER INVIGORATOR.

One dose after eating is sufficient to relieve the stomach from rising and souring. Only one dose taken before retiring, prevents Nightmare.

Only one dose taken at night, loosens the bowels gently, and cures Costiveness.

One dose taken after each meal will always remove SICK HEADACHE.

One bottle taken for female obstruction removes the cause of the disease, and makes a perfect cure. Only one dose immediately relieves Cholic, while as a sure cure for CHOLERA, one dose often repeated is needed to throw out of the system the effects of medicine after a long sickness.

☞ Only one bottle is necessary to cure JAUNDICE, removes all sallowness or unnatural color from the skin.

☞ One bottle taken after meals or unnatural color from the skin.

One dose taken a short time before eating, gives vigor to the appetite, and makes the food digest well.

One dose often repeated cures

HAMMONTON LANDS NEW ENGLAND SETTLEMENT—RARE OPPORTUNITY.

Splendid Farms in a healthy place, twenty-five miles from Philadelphia, on the Camden and Atlantic railroad, near Blueberry. An old estate has recently been opened for sale, and the first division of 10,000 acres divided up into lots, suited to every purse and approvals. The soil is of the best quality for the production of fruits, grains, &c. The price is $10 per acre, payable in easy quarter yearly instalments, within a term of four years, with interest. The purchase made easy, in order to insure the rapid improvement of the land, by enabling every industrious man to buy a farm. It is now being extensively improved by good settlers, and some of the best citizens from New England and the Middle States are erecting large improvements. It is a scene of the greatest improvement out of Philadelphia.—Seventy-five houses have been built in four months. Practical farmers and business men from the length and breadth of the Union are settling there. It is an important business place, on account of its being in the midst of a great market. Every article raised upon this land finds an immediate sale. The water is excellent, and no such thing as fever is known.

The soil is a sandy or clay loam, with a clay bottom and retentive of manures. It is free of stones and easily worked. It abounds largely in the phosphates, and such is its fertility that from the crops produced both upon this land and the large area adjoining under cultivation, it will be found not to be excelled anywhere in the production of crops most adapted to its market.

The reader may be well aware that the earliest and the best fruits and vegetables come from New Jersey, which are annually exported to the amount of millions of dollars. The land, besides being accessible in every way for fertilizers, has an abundant supply of the best quality of muck manure.

Lumber and building materials can be had on the spot at a cheap price, from the mills. Other mills are now being opened, and brickyards being started on the ground. A person can put up a frame tenement for present convenience for one hundred dollars. On account of the extensive emigration, this is the best course to pursue in order to get a place to live in at first. Carpenters and builders are on hand to put up houses on the best terms.

In settling here the emigrant has many advantages. He is within a few hours' ride of the great cities of the Middle States and New England; he is near his old friends and associations; he is in a settled country, where every improvement and comfort of civilization is at hand; he is in a healthful place, and is not subject to the certainty of losing the greater part of his family and his own health by those malignant fevers which make the graves of so many millions of the young and and hardy in the far off regions away from home and friends. Besides, he has a mild climate and an open winter.

There are three trains daily to Philadelphia, and to all those who improve the railroad company gives a free ticket.

The reader will at once be struck with the advantages here presented, and ask himself why the property has not been taken up before. The reason is, it was never thrown on the market; and unless these statements were correct no one would be invited to examine the land before purchasing. This all are expected to do. They will see the land under cultivation; they will meet persons, no doubt, from their own neighborhood; they will witness the improvements, and can judge of the character of the population. Persons should come prepared to purchase, as many are locating, and locations are not held on refusal.

The Hammonton Farmer, a monthly Literary and Agricultural sheet, containing full information of Hammonton, will be sent to each enquirer, and can be obtained at 25 cts per annum.

Title indisputable. Warrantee deeds given, clear of all incumbrance, when purchase money is paid. Route to the land:—Leave Vine street wharf, Philadelphia, for Hammonton, by railroad, at 7½ A. M., and 5½ P. M.; when there inquire for Mr. Byrnes. Boarding conveniences will be found. Letters and applications can be addressed to S. B. COUGHLIN, 202 South FIFTH Street, below Walnut, Philadelphia. Maps and information cheerfully furnished.

GREAT IMPROVEMENT IN COOKING STOVES.

CONSUMPTION OF SMOKE AND GAS AND SAVING OF FUEL.

The subscriber takes pleasure in offering to the public a NEW GAS AND SMOKE CONSUMING

Cooking Stove, recently patented, which is destined to supercede all others, as it requires

ONE-THIRD LESS FUEL

than other stoves and is more easily, quickly and regularly heated. No unpleasant smell of gas arises from this stove from the fact that it is all consumed ere it can escape. There is no trouble from smoke as that unpleasant and often annoying exhalation is also consumed inside of the stove. Neither is there any danger of flues or chimneys becoming clogged with soot or the mortar loosened by the gas arising from coal dros.

Persons wishing to purchase stoves are invited to call at the store of the subscriber, in the Masonic Temple, and examine the above stoves.

SUFFERING HUMANITY, READ

THIS.—The undersigned takes this method of informing the public generally that there is no medicine now offered to the public that is equal to DU VALL'S GALVANIC OIL in relieving suffering humanity.

I was an observer of its effects on a friend of mine, who suffered almost everything from a neuralgic affection which resisted the best medical treatment in Centre county. We applied freely the Galvanic Oil to the painful part, and gave some inwardly, and in 20 minutes the pain was asleep, and when awakened was free from pain and continued so. This is a positive fact which I am willing to make good at any time. A case of Felon was cured in nearly the same length of time. J. H. HAHN,

SCIENTIFIC AMERICAN.—VOLUME FOURTEENTH begins September 11, 1858.

MECHANICS, INVENTORS, MANUFACTURERS AND FARMERS.

The Scientific American has now reached its Fourteenth Year, and will enter upon a New Volume on the 11th of September. It is the only weekly publication of the kind now issued in this country, and it has a very extensive circulation in all the States of the Union. It is not, as some might suppose from its title, a dry, abstruse work on technical subjects; on the contrary, it so deals with the great events going on in the scientific, mechanical and industrial works as to please and instruct every one. If the Mechanic or Artizan wishes to know the best machine in use, or how to make any substance employed in his business—if the Housewife wishes to get a recipe for making a good color, &c.—if the Inventor wishes to know what is going on in the way of improvements—if the Manufacturer wishes to keep posted with the times, and to employ the best facilities in his business—if the man of leisure and study wishes to keep himself familiar with the progress made in the chemical laboratory, or in the construction of telegraphs, steamships, railroads, reapers, mowers, and a thousand other machines and appliances, both of peace and war—all these desiderata can be found in the Scientific American, and not elsewhere. They are here presented in a reliable and interesting form, adapted to the comprehension of minds unlearned in the higher branches of science and art.

TERMS:—One Copy, One Year, $2: One Copy, 6 Months, $1; Five Copies, 6 Months, $4: Ten Copies, 6 Months, $8: Ten Copies, Twelve Months, $15: Fifteen Copies, Twelve Months, $22: 20 Copies, Twelve Months, $28, in advance.

Specimen copies sent gratuitously for inspection. Southern and Western money, or Postage Stamps, taken for subscriptions.

GREAT DISCOVERY OF THE AGE

IMPORTANT TO

TOBACCO CHEWERS.

DR. GUSTAV LINNARD'S TASTE RESTORATIVE TROCHES, the great Substitute for Tobacco.

It is a well known and incontrovertible fact that the use of Tobacco is the promoting cause of many of the most severe to which the race of man is subject, as careful analysis and long and painful experience have clearly proven that it contains certain narcotic and poisonous properties most dangerous in their effects, which by entering into the blood derange the functions and operations of the Heart, causing many to suppose that organ to be seriously diseased.

MENTAL AND PHYSICAL DISORDERS

TOBACCO affects also the entire nervous system, manifesting itself—as all who have ever used the noxious weed will bear testimony—in Lassitude, Nervous Irritability, Water Brash, Dyspepsia, and many other disorders of a similar character.

THE TASTE RESTORATIVE TROCHES

Are designed to counteract these baneful influences, and have proved completely successful in a multitude of cases, and wherever used. Being harmless in themselves they exert a beneficial effect upon the entire system, restoring the Taste which has become vitiated or destroyed by great indulgence, completely removing the irritation and accompanying tickling sensation of the Throat—which are always consequent upon abstaining from the use of Tobacco, and by giving a healthy tone to the Stomach, invigorate the whole system.

Persons who are irretrievably undermining their constitutions and shortening their lives, should use these Troches immediately and throw off the injurious and unpleasant habit of Tobacco Chewing.

These Troches of Lozenges are put up in a convenient and portable form at the low price of 50 Cents per Box. A liberal discount to the Trade.

Prepared solely by the undersigned to whom all orders should be addressed.
